

First Impressions Count!

This kind of body language screams "I don't want to be here!" And guess what? With this kind of attitude, you won't be staying long!

Low-cut jeans don't rank high in the job interview world.

Too tight, not right, 'nuf said.

A neat, simple hairstyle helps present a polished appearance.

You won't go wrong with a conservative suit or dress in a neutral shade. Leave trendy looks for another time.

Hose – either flesh-toned or coordinated with your outfit – and closed-toe shoes are a must to pull the look together
