

Forget the old saying "you can't judge a book by its cover." When it comes to job interviews, first impressions count. Putting forth a little extra effort may well result in a big pay-off!

What do you have to hide? No eye contact will probably leave you with no job!

A confident (not arrogant!) attitude paired with a smile will take you farther than you can imagine!

Tie one on! It helps present a more professional appearance.

Show up in a wrinkled shirt and baggy jeans and you'll probably be shown to the exit.

Make sure your shirt and trousers are neatly pressed.

Coordinate your belt (a must!) and shoes to finish off the look.

These shoes are cool for school, but investing in a nice pair of dress shoes will pay off in the long run.
