It's Your Opportunity to Create the Future

As a Kentucky high school student, you hold the key to your future. The path you choose isn't up to your parents, teachers, or friends. You alone will determine your future.

By continuing your education beyond high school, you grant yourself the opportunity to gain more experience and knowledge that will open the gateway to endless possibilities and choices. Kentucky is home of many excellent colleges and universities that offer a multitude of programs and courses. I urge you to visit some of the wonderful higher education institutions across our Commonwealth and to learn more about the advantages of continuing your education in Kentucky.

Best Wishes,
Ernie Fletcher
 Governor of Kentucky
