

Is a Community and Technical College for You?

Ten reasons why KCTCS may be the perfect fit!

kctcs

Do you want to go to college but need to stay close to home?

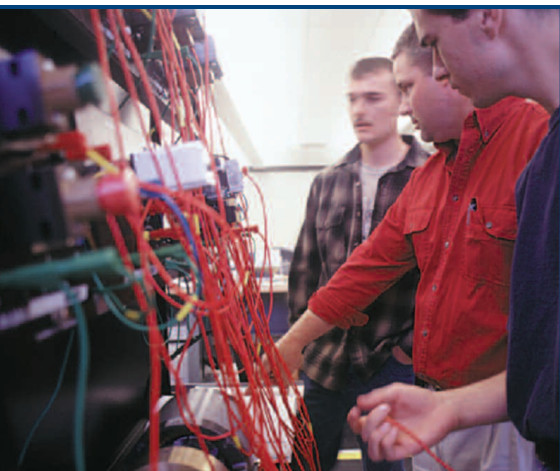

You'll be glad to know that the Kentucky Community and Technical College System (KCTCS) is right around your corner!

KCTCS's network of 16 colleges and 65 campuses ensures that you'll be provided with an excellent and affordable education in a location that is convenient to you. Not only that, but KCTCS students can choose from more than 600 degree options!

Here are 10 good reasons to attend a KCTCS college:

1. Smaller class sizes

You'll get the one-on-one attention you deserve at our community and technical colleges. Class sizes are usually smaller than public universities, even in entry-level courses. Our academic and financial advisers also work to create a personalized plan to address your own individual needs.

2. Teaching is the top priority

Our faculty's focus centers on you and your educational goals. In fact, full-time KCTCS instructors spend more hours in the classroom than the faculty in any other sector of higher education. In addition, our part-time teachers bring a wealth of "real world" experience into the classroom.

3. Schedules are flexible

In most programs of study, you can choose day or night courses – whichever is most convenient to you. We strive to assist our students as they work to manage their school, work and family responsibilities. In addition, the majority of KCTCS campuses offer short-term programs designed to aid